ZACH HILTON IS A REGISTERED PATENT AND TRADEMARK ATTORNEY with over a decade of experience in procuring patents and trademark registrations before the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office and internationally. He excels at protecting and enforcing his clients' valuable intellectual property assets. Mr. Hilton's patent practice has encompassed a range of technologies with an emphasis on the electronic, software, medical, and mechanical arts.

Mr. Hilton has also successfully combined his technical expertise with his ever-expanding litigation experience to produce winning results for his clients in the federal courts and administrative agencies. Whether it is intellectual property litigation involving technical or legal issues, defending or attacking the validity of a patent in post-grant proceedings before the Patent Trial and Appeal Board, or representing clients before the Trademark Trial and Appeal Board, Mr. Hilton's ability to quickly grasp the complex details of a case and merge them with the subtle nuances of the law allows him to effectively and efficiently represent clients in any matter with which he is involved.
