

TIMOTHY WELLS

ASSOCIATE

817.857.2141
tim@brownfoxlaw.com

BROWN FOX

TIM WELLS IS A LITIGATION ATTORNEY, with a focus on business, construction, and commercial litigation. While experienced in both state and federal court, Mr. Wells brings unique insight to federal court practice after working in the chambers of two current Northern District federal judges. He served as a federal law clerk for the Honorable Chief Judge Reed O'Connor in Fort Worth and as a judicial intern for U.S. District Judge Brantley Starr in Dallas.

Mr. Wells co-founded and managed a large commercial farming business for nearly a decade before becoming an attorney. This valuable experience has equipped him to employ creative and thoughtful legal analysis and pragmatic business solutions to his clients' needs.

PRACTICE FOCUS & EXPERIENCE

Mr. Wells represents clients across a broad range of industries in complex business disputes. Examples include sophisticated financial fraud, breach of contract, and construction defect cases. He has also represented receivers in state and federal receiverships.

- Federal Court Litigation
- Business Litigation
- Receiverships
- Commercial Litigation
- Construction Litigation

Represented receiver in Securities and Exchange Commission receivership with over $26 million at issue.

Represented several contractors in construction defects disputes.

Represented multiple commercial landlords in contract and collection disputes.

Represented large ATV, UTV, and boat manufacturer in multiple breach of warranty disputes.

Represented one of the largest meatpackers in the United States in antitrust litigation.

Represented international software developer in theft of trade secrets dispute and obtained temporary restraining order preventing use of company's trade secrets.

Represented multiple landowners in Public Utility Commission of Texas proceeding and prevented the construction of power transmission line on landowners' property.

Mr. Wells served as a federal law clerk for the Honorable Chief Judge Reed O'Connor in Fort Worth in 2025-26. During law school he served as a judicial intern for U.S. District Judge Brantley Starr in Dallas.

ADMISSIONS

- Texas (2022)
- United States Court of Appeals, Fifth Circuit
- United States District Court for the Northern District of Texas
- United States District Court for the Eastern District of Texas
- United States District Court for the Southern District of Texas
- United States District Court for the Western District of Texas

EDUCATION

Mr. Wells earned his B.S. from Cal Poly San Luis Obispo. He graduated with Honors from Regent University School of Law, where he was an Editor on the Regent University Law Review.

- Regent University School of Law, J.D., Honors, (2022)
  - Dean's Academic Merit Scholarship Recipient
  - Selected for Jurisprudence Class with Justice Samuel Alito
  - Notes & Comments Editor, Regent University Law Review
- California Polytechnic State University, B.S., (2014)
  - Bachelor of Science in Agricultural Systems Management with a Minor in Agribusiness

IN THE COMMUNITY

Mr. Wells is involved in the Fort Worth and Dallas legal communities through his membership in the Eldon B. Mahon Inn of Court and his pro bono work with Advocates for Community Transformation (ACT) and its mission to remove crime hotspots in Dallas and Fort Worth. In coordination with Alliance Defending Freedom, he has also represented the Manhattan Institute in filing an amicus brief at the Supreme Court of the United States supporting free speech in the face of state action by elected officials using social media.

MORE ABOUT TIMOTHY WELLS

Tim lives in Fort Worth with his wife Madi, where they are eagerly awaiting the birth of their first child in the fall of 2026. Tim and Madi are members of Clearfork Community Church.